BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
BOSTON, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Disogists and alienists headed by Dr. E. H. Peck, superintendent of the Massachusetts School for the Cretinoid, who have been quietly collecting statistics and data relating to crime and its relation to the mind, have had a law passed in that state which will, in a few years, launch one of the most important experiments in criminology, which, alienists assert, is of no lasting benefit whatever to them, will be removed at once to separate buildings

where they will be permanently cared

FIVE PESOS FOR DR. SUN

Infinitesimal Reward Offered to Capture China's Late Ruler.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five dollars Mexican is the reward
offered by the Chinese republic for the capture of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. His humiliated and disgraced name comes last on the list of men who have gotten into bad standing with the new government, and the trivial
reward offered for his return is publicly advertised with other offenders, for whom the government will give sums varying from $200,000 to $500,000.

D. Harvey, just returned from Peking, says that contrary to occidental custom of offering the greatest reward
for apprehension of the most obnoxious individuals, China believes that by posting the former provisional President as having a value of less than two and a half dollars American money, far greater indignation can be placed upon him and that such procedure will result in entire "loss of face" by the man who was recently hailed as the "Moses of the Chinese republic."

DEMOCRATIC SPOILSMEN JOLTED BY REDFIELD.

Cabinet Member Calls Halt on Attempt to Nullify Civil Service.

Secretary of Commerce in Remarkable Letter to Indiana Congressman Denounces the Flagrant Encroachments on Merit System—Utterance Is Regarded as a Warning to Administration Leaders.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A remarkable letter, admitting that political appointees yield to party influences demanding special favors in the enforcement of laws and that partisan control deteriorates public service
generally, has been written by Secretary of Commerce Redfield.

The letter, which was addressed to Representative Lieb of Indiana, is to be used as a test of forthcoming speeches in the Senate and House denouncing the encroachment of the Democratic spoilsmen on the Federal service. Progressive and Republican statesmen assert that Secretary Redfield's utterances deserve to rank with the famous Norton letter which embarrassed the Taft administration with its admissions.

The President had withheld patronage
from Republicans in order to induce legislation.

The secretary wrote Mr. Lieb to explain why he refused to throw open the steamboat inspection service to the Democratic job hunters.

REDFIELD'S LETTER.
"Not only honor," he said, "but the weight of an aroused public opinion require that the steamboat inspection service should be run on the sole basis of ascertained efficiency.
It has no political function. Its sole duty is to enforce the law and this it should do without being tempted by political patronage or personal partiality. If the supervising inspectors of this service owed their positions in any degree to political influences, they would be unable to perform their duties and to enforce the law, of course it must be true
as to all government service."

"It is true," said Senator Borah tonight, "that political influence would render one set of government employees unfit to perform their duties
and to enforce the law, of course it must be true as to all government service."

Progressive and Republican are asking whether the income tax and against inspectors whose removal has been sought seems to have originated with those who have either been neglected or against whom the law has been enforced."

GRIM PANIC SEIZES CREW WHEN VOLTURNO BURNS.

Survivor's Story Paints a Terrible Picture of the Confusion Aboard the Doomed Ship as the Lifeboats Are Dashed to Pieces Against Her Side—Latest Reports
Put the Death Loss at One Hundred and Thirty-six.

BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—The latest accounts of the disaster to the steamship Volturmo, burned and abandoned in mid-ocean on Friday morning, confirm that the loss of life will be limited to about 136. The Carnegie, first of the rescuing ships to reach the burning steamer, arrived off Queenstown this morning, but owing to the gale proceeded to Fishguard,
where she is due to arrive at 11 a.m.

A graphic story by the solitary survivor aboard the Carnarvon was received by wireless and presents a terrible picture of the horror, the panic
and confusion aboard the burning liner. Walter Trintepohl, a German, who tells the story, however, is clearly suffering from the stress of illness and awful experiences, and his story is too incoherent to be accepted in every detail.

Most important, if true, is his declaration that two boats got away from the Volturmo.

CAPTAIN LAST TO LEAVE.
According to other accounts Captain was the last to leave the vessel,
which was still burning late Friday night and was a danger to other navigation.

Forty of the 126 persons lost from the Volturmo were in the two boats which succeeded in getting away from the burning vessel and which without doubt were swamped. The majority of the other victims lost

SUSPEND MORE TEACHERS FOR HAVING CHILDREN.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of the fight of the Board of Education against teachers who have become mothers,
three more women have been suspended from their school places. They were teachers in the elementary schools.

At a meeting on October 22, Dr.
William H. Maxwell, the City Superintendent of Schools, will submit names of all teachers who have become mothers since January 1, 1912.
Commissioner Abraham Stern said
Dr. Maxwell had the power to dismiss such teachers and that he should use it.

NURSE LEAVES HER ALL TO FORMER CHARGES.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Marion Gray, an English woman, for thirty years a trusted
nurse in prominent Northside families, died a fortnight ago in the Home for Incurables. In her will which has just been admitted to probate, she bequeathed the residue of her estate to the young men and women who had been her charges years ago.

The woman died happy in the thought that she was leaving substantial remembrance to her beloved
"children," as she always called them.
She was happy in her ignorance that during the several years she had been in the home her little fortune had been gradually and legitimately eaten up.

To the last she was held in affectionate regard by the families in which she had worked. These included the families of Helen Oswald, Judge Charles M. Walker, Richard Howe, the late William J. Goudy and the late Charles Deering.

There was a certain coterie of friends on the Northside that had a tacit understanding that "Marion"
was always to be kept busy among them. She was quiet, steady, reliable and tender with the children. Extracts from the will run:
"My dear little Helen Goudy,
daughter of the late William J. Goudy, and Carolyn Walker Goudy, to her I bequeath the residue of my estate ($2750). I was her nurse from the time she was six weeks old until she was nearly 7 years of age."

To little Barbara Deering, second daughter of Charles Deering, Evanston, the gold watch and chain which William Deering Howe gave me. To William Deering Howe, son of Richard F. Howe (brother-in-law of Charles Deering), $10 with which to buy a keepsake of me; to Judge Charles M. Walker, in trust for his only son, Charles M. Walker, Jr., $100 to be paid him when he reaches his twenty-first birthday. My father and mother are dead and I haven't seen
my brothers for years."

One of her last places of employment was the family of Norman Willam.

JUDGMENT SUSPENDED.

Wilson Puzzled by Huerta's Coup.

Hears Elections Will Be Held
in Mexico According to Programme.

Deputies in Sympathy With Provisional President Are to Be Chosen.

Many Say Congress Should
Have Been Broken Up
Long Ago.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The feeling that the situation in Mexico City is again
in such a state that almost anything
may happen there, took to the State Department today a number of officials, including Acting Secretary John Barnett Moore, who read over the dispatches from Mexico. It was later announced, however, that the department's information was practically identical with what has been published in the newspapers.

It is expected that Nelson O'Shaughnessy, Charge d'Affaires at Mexico City, will convey to the Huerta government some idea of the bad impression which would be created in the United States should any injury befall the members of the House of Deputies whom the President has put in prison in the capital. In fact it is considered likely that Mr. O'Shaughnessy has already taken such a step.

This procedure was followed last February when the late President Macdonald and Vice-President Taft were imprisoned by Huerta, who then acted as commander-in-chief of the Mexican forces.

Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson,
upon instructions from President Taft, represented to Huerta what a great misfortune it would be for the United States if Huerta should imprison the members of the House of Representatives, and the bad impression which it would create abroad, especially in the United States, if Macdonald and Taft were not guarded scrupulously.

DISPOSED OF REBELLION.
Huerta then responded that everything would be done to insure the personal safety of the two prisoners.
It is expected that he will give similar assurances in the present instance and it is believed that there is much more likelihood of the facts bearing out his words, as by dissolving Congress he has effectively disposed of the rebellious Deputies for the time being.

There is no question about the bad impression which Huerta's use of force
in imprisoning the Deputies and eliminating Congress has created in Washington. It is being declared that this action demonstrates to the fullest degree the lack of respect for the government of the United States, and that President Wilson in holding that Huerta is not the kind of man to whom the United States can extend any recognition.

It is conceded, however, that Huerta's action cannot be judged fairly on the basis of what such a step would mean in the United States nor that the necessities of the situation, from the point of view of the government in Mexico, cannot be wholly overlooked.

TO HOLD ELECTIONS.
The probable effect on the matter
of elections is regarded purely as a matter for conjecture only. It is pointed out that as Huerta has ordered new elections for Congress,
that body is likely to be more in harmony with his government than the Congress that he has just dissolved,
and that it may give to the elections
its official approval.

SULZER PREPARES BOLT FOR CHARLES F. MURPHY.

Governor Expects He Will Be Found Guilty by Court Composed of His Enemies and Has a Gun Loaded for Tammany Chieftain—Plans to Denounce Verdict and Go Before the Public With His Version of the Case.

ALBANY, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prepared evidently for the worst that he could befall him this week at the hands of the court of impeachment, William Sulzer is exhibiting a degree of nerve and confidence in himself which amazes even those who know him best. He is convinced at last that his chances of acquittal are slight. Mr. Sulzer is making ready to keep up his fight on Charles F. Murphy. The statement he has prepared and which is being held for release, says that he will be found guilty by the court. He evidently expects nothing else and his future moves are arranged with that in mind.

WILL FIGHT TO END.
Drawing his inspiration from the mass of encouraging letters which come to him daily, Mr. Sulzer stands ready, he declares, to seek revenge upon his political enemies. He will not accept the verdict of the court of impeachment as final and sink into political obscurity without a struggle. He will denounce the verdict and with his plan of conspiracy take his story to the people. He will keep alive the agitation as long as he can find an audience to listen to him. Defeat of any Tammany candidate will be his aim.

After spending hours in the seclusion of his library reading letters of encouragement from every part of the State the Governor stepped out on the veranda of the executive residence at 5 o'clock this afternoon with a bolder stride than has been

HUNT MEETS REBEL CHIEF.

ARIZONA'S GOVERNOR SEES GEN. CARRANZA.

Courtesies Are Exchanged on the International Border at Nogales as the Sonora and Chihuahua Constitutional Leaders Shake Hands With the American Executive.

NOGALES (Ariz.) Oct. 12.—Gov. Hunt of Arizona, and Gen. Carranza, insurgent Governor of the Mexican State of Chihuahua, met today at the international line here. They shook hands, and through an interpreter exchanged social greetings.

A Mexican band played the "Star Spangled Banner," as the American and Mexican Governors met. Carranza, who is supreme leader of the Constitutional revolution, had been accompanied to the line from Hermosillo by Gov. Maytorena and other Sonora State officials. The town of Nogales, Sonora, greeted the insurgent commander with a parade, band concert and a programme of speaking.

The crowds on either side of the international line were awaiting the arrival from Phoenix of a special train bearing an excursion of Elks Lodge men.

Secret service men were alert to locate an unnamed Frenchman, who, it was reported, had left El Paso with the intention of assassinating the Mexican revolution leader.

The ceremony, however, passed quietly.

Gov. Hunt said that his meeting with the Constitutional leaders had been merely an exchange of courtesies. He said he had taken special care to avoid saying anything which might have been construed as an official recognition.

FEDERALS AGGRESSIVE.
Large Column Leaves Piedras Negras to Intercept Advance of the Carranzistas.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Owing to rumors that the Constitutionalists had broken camp at Hacienda, Chihuahua, and were slowly moving towards the border, a large Federal column was sent in the northeastern direction from Piedras Negras at daylight this morning to intercept the supposed advance.

Between 700 and 800 Mexicans crossed the bridge to the American side to avoid danger should a conflict take place near the city. The Federals have 500 cavalry and more than 1000 infantry with twelve cannon and several rapid-fire guns. The exact number of Carranzistas is problematical, although the leaders say they

Judgement Suspended.

There have been reported that conditions in the respective States and territories are such that it is an attempt to launch them. All this occurred before the arrival of the Carman and his officers, summoned by wireless calls for help.

Arthur Spurgeon, a passenger on the Carman, in a wireless dispatch, supplements his own description of the burning vessel and the rescue of the passengers of the Volturo by the story told him by the survivor, Walter Trintophl, a German, who swam to the Carman and was rescued in an exhausted condition. Since being taken aboard the Carman, Trintophl has been in the ship's hospital, ill with pneumonia. He told his story to Mr. Spurgeon before he became seriously ill. Trintophl was a third-class passenger on the Volturo.

FIRE ALARM SOUNDS.
"All went well," said Trintophl, "until the fire alarm sounded. We were aroused and told to go on deck, as the fire had broken out in the hold. As we were assembling on the deck, the temperature taken on the water near the shore line was 51.8 degrees Fahrenheit, while that taken on the shore was 52.8 degrees Fahrenheit. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea."

In July and August the expedition saw much evidence of the presence of the new land, Commander Wilkity stated. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea.

The first fire crew were sent to the first boat, but although he wanted the women and children saved first, a man, who had entered the boat, was a member of the crew. This boat was smashed against the ship's side.

Meanwhile attempts were made to lower the second boat. The first boat was then lowered and the women and children were saved. The first boat was then lowered and the women and children were saved.

Friends of Gen. Felix Diaz advise him not to land in Mexico during present complications.

VERA CRUZ (Mex.) Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Friends of the fact that Gen. Huerta, the provisional President, has suspended Congress and imprisoned more than 100 of its members, the people of Vera Cruz not only show no excitement, but are seemingly apathetic.

Friends of Gen. Felix Diaz, who had expected to meet him at Havana and accompany him back to Mexico, are now considering the advisability of counseling him to remain there, since it is assumed that the new turn of events will make the elections practically impossible.

JUAREZ MEXICANS FEAR VIOLENCE.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
EL PASO, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A number of the better class of residents of Juarez whose loyalty to the Federal Government has been tested in the past, are now being handed around and much time was occupied in fastening them. We were told that the fire might soon be quenched, but the captain thought it was wise for all to have belts as a precaution.

Trintophl was a third-class passenger on the Volturo.

Arthur Spurgeon, a passenger on the Carman, in a wireless dispatch, supplements his own description of the burning vessel and the rescue of the passengers of the Volturo by the story told him by the survivor, Walter Trintophl, a German, who swam to the Carman and was rescued in an exhausted condition. Since being taken aboard the Carman, Trintophl has been in the ship's hospital, ill with pneumonia. He told his story to Mr. Spurgeon before he became seriously ill. Trintophl was a third-class passenger on the Volturo.

LATEST POLAR ISLAND POPULATED BY WALRUS.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)
S. T. MICHAEL, Oct. 12.—The expedition which discovered the new island in the polar sea sailed from Vladivostok by way of Petrovsk and East Cape, and thence westward along the Siberian coast to latitude 56 east.

Commander Wilkity says that the shore of the new country where the expedition landed and along which the vessels traveled is rocky, with high abrupt cliffs, formed evidently from volcanic activity. Volcanoes of the district possibly may have been active recently, he said.

Many high peaks, he stated, were discernible inland from the vessels, and what seemed to be vapor could be seen arising from one of them. The temperature taken on the water near the shore line was 51.8 degrees Fahrenheit, while that taken on the shore was 52.8 degrees Fahrenheit. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea.

In July and August the expedition saw much evidence of the presence of the new land, Commander Wilkity stated. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea. The land was covered with snow almost to the sea.

The first fire crew were sent to the first boat, but although he wanted the women and children saved first, a man, who had entered the boat, was a member of the crew. This boat was smashed against the ship's side.

Meanwhile attempts were made to lower the second boat. The first boat was then lowered and the women and children were saved. The first boat was then lowered and the women and children were saved.

WATER PROBLEM IS VEXING CAMP.

CHEAP DISPOSAL OF OVERFLOW PRESENTS TROUBLE.

Apparently inexhaustible underground supply would become valuable asset instead of nuisance if it could be utilized—Water Company seeks solution.

Special Correspondent of The Times.

TONOPAH (Nev.) Oct. 9.—Paradoxical as it may appear, the greatest and most serious question today at the camp is cheap disposal of water.

From experience of deep mines, outside of those situated at the most lofty points, water has proved a troublesome and expensive factor in operations and it is not improbable that a tunnel scheme will in the near future have to be devised to assist in freeing the lower workings from intrusions of floods.

At the east end of the Halifax has been drowned out from the 1700-foot level to the 1100, and a most costly equipment of pumps has been installed without apparent effect in reducing the volume of the flow. On the west end the merger is taking all the flow from the upper mines on that side of camp and the management has to put in plants capable of coping with the rush of water.

The same may be said of other properties, all of which go to prove that there is an apparently inexhaustible body underlying this desert country at a depth of 1500 feet. If this could only be utilized as a commercial product it would prove a valuable asset, as the local water company has engaged engineers to prospect for a supply to meet the increasing demand from mills projected and under construction.

The consumption of water in Tonopah outside the domestic service is in the neighborhood of 150,000 gallons daily and some steps have to be taken to insure a continuance of the flow to the mines and the mills must continue operating.

North Star continues to shine as the leading attraction of the board, but interest has waned and a damper has been placed on orders by the disclosures of that nefarious deal. The latest statement emanates from J. J. McQuillan, the former manager, who has returned from a conference with Ziegler in San Francisco. He talks freely now of the trouble which led to the extinguishing of the mine and blames it all on the fact that the mine was not properly managed.

There were no more than a score to the block of ground which had been measured out and reported to contain a mass of pay quartz 200 feet wide by 150 feet high. That such was not the case, it is stated, was a surprise to the company and McQuillan says he did not sell a share short and that he is one of the heaviest losers by the deal in "Star."

If this statement is to be accepted it confirms the belief that he never was fit for the position he occupied and that he should not be left in control of the Rescue and Umatilla, two prospective mines, whose making depends on the knowledge of the management of underground vein systems. Nevertheless he appears to retain the confidence of the Ziegler people, but in local circles, he has been passed up.

The most important feature of the week was the official announcement of the Tonopah Mining Company to the effect that that company had bought a big placer property in California and would begin at once to place it in line for development on an enormous scale. It is commonly believed that this refers to the claims in Calaveras county that have been under investigation by Prof. Spurr. They are in the vicinity of Angel's Camp and are supposed to include the Lightning and adjoining properties.

The company has a reserve of almost $2,000,000 for this express purpose of taking care of the present stockholders and continuing the operations of the company after the Tonopah field begins to show exhaustion. It is currently reported that the company paid close to $1,000,000 for the property and that they will be worked on a most comprehensive scale that will lead to a sudden revival in the mother lode country.

The annual meeting of the Montana Tonopah developed nothing more than routine and the fact that the new mill of the Commonwealth Mining Company, a subsidiary of the Montana, started operations Tuesday with every department operating in most satisfactory style. Now if the saving is up to expectations the company will have a valuable reserve agent to bolster the earnings of the Tonopah mine and one that will prove a valuable adjunct in earning capacity.

Dividend checks from the Belmont show that company to have a reserve of $1,440,000, but nothing more is heard of the possibility of a Christmas bonus. The physical condition of the property is better than ever and the ore blocked out is sufficient to keep the mill running for two years without further work.

President Cal Brouwer of the Midway and Monarch, spent a couple of days here looking over the ground, and left instructions to go ahead with deep work on the Midway and to install pumps and strengthen the hoisting plant of the Monarch. The Midway is cutting a station at 1100 and will sink to 1200 and then begin cross-cutting on a general plan of development. The latter work will not begin before the station is finished, which will be in the course of three weeks or a month and it is not improbable that ore will be found before the station is completed, as stringers with high values have been coming into the shaft at intervals from the 600-foot level. In the Monarch lenses of ore are showing and it may not take much more work to prove the existence of an ore body in that estate.

Albanian Feuds. (London Evening Standard.) A London Princling is reported to have been "nominated" to the throne of Albania. "Uneasy lies the head," etc., and it is difficult to imagine a much more uneasy position than the leadership of a people whose chief occupation—at any rate, whose chief interest—is in murdering feuds. Imagine the Highlands of Scotland as they were in the Middle Ages, with war, and other clans or parts of clans following suit. Imagine the introduction into this hurly-burly of warring religions, not two but three, all bitterly opposed to each other. Imagine further, that two foreign nations are perpetually intriguing among these clans over to their respective sides. Imagine also the condition of Albania at the present moment, with this additional complication—that the territory of Montenegro, Serbia and Greece will be perpetually kicking against the pricks.

Exchange of Courtesies. (Philadelphia Ledger.) After the workmen had cleared out the landlady took special pains to show to each tenant his bill for doing over his flat. The householder regarded that attention in different lights according to the improvements they had fought for and secured.

"Some looked frightened, thinking it portended a rise in rent, some apologetic, some defiant. The third floor right man was non-committal. Three days later he called at the landlady's office and presented a slip of paper. It was a bill for six shirts, summer socks and ties, a straw hat and a blue serge suit.

"What's that got to do with rent?" exclaimed the landlady. "Oh, nothing," said the man airily. "Just an interchange of courtesies. Nothing like being neighborly, you know."

Bears More Troublesome than Mice. (Canadian News.) David Gillies, lumberman of Ottawa, received a letter from one of his old fire rangers on the Upper Petawawa a short time ago as follows: "Bears are a little troublesome this month. They have broken into the hut at Catfish several times during my absence and have eaten my provisions and upset everything. I had the windows nailed up with inch boards and five-inch spikes, and they tore that off and got in again. They came at night, too, and waken me up. I struck one in the face the other night as he was trying to climb in the window, and I scared another away when he started to pull down the barricade. I am not afraid of bears, but they are more troublesome than mice and squirrels."

Kansas Sashier Carrying Six Thousand Dollars Shoots One Robber and Captures Another.

PITTSBURG (Kan.) Oct. 12.—An attempt by two highwaymen to rob Howard Millington, cashier of the Pittsburg Northern Coal Company, of $8000 on a lonely road near here yesterday resulted in the wounding of one of the bandits and the capture of the other. Charles Kotsman, probably fatally shot, lies in a hospital here and his brother-in-law, Frank Kotsman is in jail.

Many Buildings Destroyed in the Heart of Springfield (Ill.) Business District.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 12.—Fire last night destroyed the S. Mendenhall building in the heart of the downtown district. It spread to adjoining buildings and entailed a loss of half a million dollars.

The flames leaped through the windows of the five stories all at once and the firemen had to devote their energies to saving the buildings across the street.

When the walls of the Mendenhall building fell, the crowd which had gathered surged back, but several spectators were slightly injured. Several firemen were also hurt.

HOPS EFFERVESCENT.

Oregon Market on the Jump Because of a Higher Level.

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another wave of excited buying has put the Oregon hop market in a turmoil. After the brief flurry of last month, when the price was raised to 27 1/2 cents, a reaction set in and the market was carried down in a few days to 25 1/2 cents. Now it has reversed itself suddenly and, with jumps of 1 to 2 cents a day, most of the loss has been made up. Last night the market stood strong at the 26-cent mark. Unless the dealers' guesses are wrong, a 30-cent market will be here in the near future.

The course of prices since the season opened made it evident that the hops in the latter part of September were carried to an unwarrantable extent. The penalty was paid in the consequent slump, which also went farther than it should. Now the Oregon market is trying to get on a rightful parity with the other hop markets of the world. New York hops are selling at 47 cents. English hops are selling at 47 cents and Germans have soared until all track of them has been lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Jewish women of Temple Emanuel yesterday broke the tradition of centuries by removing their hats during the Yom Kippur services. Many arrived in limousines and entered the synagogue without any head covering. When the services were about to begin the Schachmuth requested all women to remove their hats. This caused some trouble, as many were unable to hold their hats and handle the union prayer-book. The removal of hats was expected to help the acoustics of the synagogue.

DESIGN FOR COL. GRIFFITH'S GIFT TO LOS ANGELES IS GIVEN PUBLIC VIEW BY TACOMA ARCHITECTS.

TACOMA, Oct. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tacoma saw today for the first time the successful design submitted by Architects Heath and Gove for the Greek theater to be presented to Los Angeles by Col. Griffith. It rivals the Tacoma High School stadium in massiveness, while its great stage and stately promenade, worked out in classic detail, make it one of the world's most beautiful structures.

Heath and Gove are hurrying detailed plans that there may be no delay in construction. Frederick Heath designed the Tacoma stadium, and his firm designed three great Tacoma high schools that rank among America's finest in modern design.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 11.—Judge R. E. Sloan, former Governor of Arizona, is attorney for clients representing $140,000 in subscriptions in the Ranchers' Trust Company, a corporation which sold stock broadcast in Northern Arizona without the formality of securing permission so to do from the State Corporation Commission. In the complaint it is alleged that the "innocent purchasers" now holding the notes given for stock really are not entitled to protection as such, in that they know that the scheme was not straight. Three agents traveled through Northern Arizona by automobile, offering special "inside" information to wealthy stockmen, many of whom were to be directors. Altogether, the trio secured about $200,000 in notes, on which it is understood they collected 15 per cent. immediately.

The Corporation Commission has granted permission for the sale of 11,052,500 of the capital stock of the Navajo Southern Timber and Land Company, and of $1,000,000 stock of the Navajo Southern Railway Company. With the funds secured, a railroad is to be built southward from Holbrook into the Mink Mesa timber reserve and timber is to be purchased from the government. W. H. Clark of Holbrook is at the head of both corporations.

Grow Plants by Electricity.

Though reports of success in electrically stimulating plants continue to be made, commercial results seem to be as far off as ever. Careful and persistent experiments have been made with a very simple method by Batay at Antwerp, and his claim is that during a number of years his garden has shown double and quadruple yields of lettuce, strawberries and other products. The gain is attributed entirely to the use of his accounts and atmosphere, and conducted to the soil, no electric generator being employed. The experimenter uses simply ground metallic rods with unoxidizable points, and sets upright as many of these as may be necessary, pushing them into the soil to the depth of the roots. The assumption is that each rod collects atmospheric electricity from a circle having a radius equal to the rod's height.

Strength of Insects.

[Our Dumb Animals.]

When compared with the strength of man, the strength of an insect is most remarkable indeed. For instance, the busy little ant can carry a load forty times as heavy as himself, and the ordinary beetle can propel a burden a hundred times its own weight. The insignificant housefly gives a hundred strokes of his wings in about two seconds, thus enabling him to go a distance of thirty-five feet in that time.

Perhaps the most wonderful of all insects is the dragon fly. It goes through the air at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and can stop instantly, or change its course backward or sideways without lessening its speed or changing the position of its body.

One little honey bee will hang suspended from a limb, while from his body a hundred others will depend— one holding to another, chain-fashion;— or he can see that the first bee wavers or finds his load heavy.

Easily Satisfied Audience.

[Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.]

As a lecturer on his experiences, Archibald Forbes was very popular, and he was fond of recounting the experience of his debut in that capacity at Leaven, Fifeshire. With a thumping heart, the new lecturer appeared at the hall door shortly before the starting time, 8 o'clock, and not wishing to push through a great audience on his way to the platform, he asked the hallkeeper to conduct him to a side door.

"To me, mind," replied that functionary, not unkindly, "there's no crowd."

When Forbes entered the hall he found to his surprise that the hall was quite correct. There was not a single soul present. After a bit, however, a man strolled in and calmly proceeded to choose a seat. It seems he was a commercial traveler, putting up at the hotel for the night, who had found time hanging heavily on his hands. Nobody else coming, Forbes said to his audience:

"A drink," said the traveler.

When Forbes entered the hall he found to his surprise that the hall was quite correct. There was not a single soul present. After a bit, however, a man strolled in and calmly proceeded to choose a seat. It seems he was a commercial traveler, putting up at the hotel for the night, who had found time hanging heavily on his hands. Nobody else coming, Forbes said to his audience:

"A drink," said the traveler.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 11.—Judge R. E. Sloan, former Governor of Arizona, is attorney for clients representing $140,000 in subscriptions in the Ranchers' Trust Company, a corporation which sold stock broadcast in Northern Arizona without the formality of securing permission so to do from the State Corporation Commission. In the complaint it is alleged that the "innocent purchasers" now holding the notes given for stock really are not entitled to protection as such, in that they know that the scheme was not straight. Three agents traveled through Northern Arizona by automobile, offering special "inside" information to wealthy stockmen, many of whom were to be directors. Altogether, the trio secured about $200,000 in notes, on which it is understood they collected 15 per cent. immediately.

The Corporation Commission has granted permission for the sale of 11,052,500 of the capital stock of the Navajo Southern Timber and Land Company, and of $1,000,000 stock of the Navajo Southern Railway Company. With the funds secured, a railroad is to be built southward from Holbrook into the Mink Mesa timber reserve and timber is to be purchased from the government. W. H. Clark of Holbrook is at the head of both corporations.

SHOT THROUGH DOOR.

Early Thursday morning William S. Edwards, a cowboy much worse for liquor, tried to break into the mercantile establishment of Michael McBride at Sellman. McBride warned the man to leave and finally shot him through the door. One of the bullets found a fatal spot. The shooter delivered himself to the authorities and then, unguarded, came to Prescott, where he will have a preliminary examination. Edwards left a wife and two children, resident in Flagstaff.

A week ago in a forest camp near Flagstaff, lightning struck a tent wherein two boys were alone, killing Eugene Randolph, aged 8. His brother, aged 11, was knocked down but not badly hurt.

Grow Plants by Electricity.

Though reports of success in electrically stimulating plants continue to be made, commercial results seem to be as far off as ever. Careful and persistent experiments have been made with a very simple method by Batay at Antwerp, and his claim is that during a number of years his garden has shown double and quadruple yields of lettuce, strawberries and other products. The gain is attributed entirely to the use of his accounts and atmosphere, and conducted to the soil, no electric generator being employed. The experimenter uses simply ground metallic rods with unoxidizable points, and sets upright as many of these as may be necessary, pushing them into the soil to the depth of the roots. The assumption is that each rod collects atmospheric electricity from a circle having a radius equal to the rod's height.

When compared with the strength of man, the strength of an insect is most remarkable indeed. For instance, the busy little ant can carry a load forty times as heavy as himself, and the ordinary beetle can propel a burden a hundred times its own weight. The insignificant housefly gives a hundred strokes of his wings in about two seconds, thus enabling him to go a distance of thirty-five feet in that time.

Perhaps the most wonderful of all insects is the dragon fly. It goes through the air at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and can stop instantly, or change its course backward or sideways without lessening its speed or changing the position of its body.

One little honey bee will hang suspended from a limb, while from his body a hundred others will depend— one holding to another, chain-fashion;— or he can see that the first bee wavers or finds his load heavy.

As a lecturer on his experiences, Archibald Forbes was very popular, and he was fond of recounting the experience of his debut in that capacity at Leaven, Fifeshire. With a thumping heart, the new lecturer appeared at the hall door shortly before the starting time, 8 o'clock, and not wishing to push through a great audience on his way to the platform, he asked the hallkeeper to conduct him to a side door.
